Message From The President

Thank you for your interest in becoming a sponsor for Siam Fight Productions. I have worked for over a decade to provide amateur Muay Thai athletes, especially youth athletes, with mentorship and martial arts training to help them improve both mentally and physically. Some of my proudest moments occurred while I was helping some of my athletes find confidence in themselves by teaching them about Muay Thai principles: hard work, commitment, loyalty, and perseverance. Many of my exceptional amateur and youth athletes expressed to me their desire to train towards becoming professional Muay Thai athletes; however, I realized that their chances at becoming successful professional athletes was slim because there was no formal avenue for an amateur or youth athlete to reach new heights. Here was the problem: baseball had a little league, football had a peewee league; however, amateur and youth Muay Thai athletes needed their own way to develop their skills and to prepare them to become professional Muay Thai athletes. Therefore, I founded Siam Fight Productions in 2012 in order to create a safe and high quality event to showcase the top amateur and youth Muay Thai athletes right here in the United States. Since its founding, amateur and youth athletes from over 20 countries have made the trek to the U.S. to compete against our top athletes. We need supporters like you to help make our U.S. athletes' dreams a continuing reality. Join our team and be a part of this unique and special endeavor by becoming a Siam Fight Productions sponsor.

Competition among businesses and brands has increased greatly over the years, but business owners who work smarter and not necessarily harder will be leaders in their markets. Why work hard to establish your company's reputation when you could partner with one that already evokes excellence?

Your company can benefit by becoming a sponsor of Siam Fight Productions, the fastest growing amateur and youth Muay Thai event promotions company in the U.S.

When your company becomes a sponsor it will:

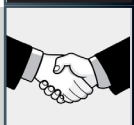

Increase its brand awareness and overall outreach to potential customers locally and internationally.

Benefit from continuous advertising opportunities, since media from our events are shared globally.

Gain access to elite Muay Thai athletes as well as their extended network of followers.

Improve customer retention: history has shown that Muay Thai fans are highly loyal to brands that support Muay Thai.

You can see that sponsorship is not an act of charity; rather, it's a tool that you can use to grow your business.

Allow Siam Fight Productions to become ambassadors for your brand. Choose from our available packages or from our À la carte options.
